Let the magic begin!

Angela Reign Band welcomes master guitarist Justin Cain.

The Angela Reign Band is proud to announce the addition of Justin Cain to their team. A studio and road-tested guitar master with an ability to adapt to any musical genre, Justin was a recipient of the Atlanta Institute of Music's (AIM) Achievement Merit Scholarship, and now teaches regularly at AIM. Justin brings to the stage the same energy and mastery on guitar that Angela Reign does behind the microphone.

Critics applaud Justin Cain.

Carl Culpepper, AIM Guitar Dept Co-head and author of Terrifying Techniques for Guitar had this to say about Justin Cain. "Justin is an exceptional guitarist and musician. His creativity, enthusiasm and dynamic presence as a performer combine for a promising future."

Tom Knight, TLC drummer, shared the following. "Justin's definitely got the goods! .... excellent playing, a great attitude, and his non-stop willingness to learn more.....A killer guitarist with a great look and a wonderful disposition."

Guitar legend Barry Richman added, "Justin Cain is an excellent guitarist ... great chops and very musical!!!"

AIM President Nite Driscoll had this to say. "Justin Cain is an amazingly talented musician and performer, well-versed in any style or genre of music. Justin deservedly graduated from AIM at the top of a very distinguished class."

Most excited, however, is Angela Reign herself. "I am thrilled to have Justin join our team. As much as any awards or music critic accolades we received, having a musician of Justin's talent join our team is a huge acknowledgement of our success. We are truly honored by the opportunity to bring his many talents to the stage".

Justin Cain endorses Electroplex Amps.

The Angela Reign Band and Justin Cain are also proud to announce their endorsement of Electroplex Amplifiers. Justin Cain takes the stage nightly with an Electroplex Rocket 35. Justin had this to say about his Rocket. "My Electroplex Rocket 35 screams when I ask and cries sweetly when I need. It's an absolute tone monster with it's own, genuine sound. Just like Angela Reign, it's impossible to ignore. This is my bucket list amp."

Electroplex adds a chapter to a rich history.

Electroplex Rocket Amplifiers have been hand-built since 1993 and have been used by guitar greats including Keith Richards, Brian Ray and Carl Verheyen. The all-tube Rockets have found their way into recording studios such as Oceanway Studios with the Stones and Abbey Road Studios with Sir Paul McCartney, and have graced concert stages worldwide from Tokyo to Red Square.

Don Morris, President of Electroplex Amplifiers had this to share. "Electroplex Amplifiers is proud to support musicians of Justin Cain and Angela Reign's talent. We have very high expectations for their success."

Angela Reign added, "We're honored by the opportunity to carry on in the tradition of legendary Electroplex supported guitarists"
